FATAL ACCIDENT

MR. AND MRS. BURTON INJURED AND TWO DAUGHTERS KILLED LAST NIGHT

The people of Glendale and vicinity were overwhelmed this morning at the news of the awful accident which befell the J. W. M. Burton family last night. Mr. and Mrs. Burton, with their two daughters, Zelma and Emma Lee, were driving out from Los Angeles to their home in Montrose in an automobile belonging to the Pacific Light and Power Company, with which corporation Mr. Burton is connected. At the junction of the San Fernando road and the Verdugo road crossed by the Eagle Rock-Hawthorne line of the Los Angeles railway, the car in which the Burtons were riding was struck by a street car. The occupants were thrown from the auto and the light car completely demolished. All were rushed to the receiving hospital in Los Angeles, where it was found that the youngest daughter, Emma Lee, had been killed outright, and where her sister died an hour later. Mrs. Burton suffered a broken pelvis bone and other injuries which it is thought will not prove fatal. She was taken from the receiving hospital this morning to the Burbank hospital in the Scovern-Letton-Frey ambulance. She is conscious but unaware of the fact that her daughters are dead. Mr. Burton is still at the receiving hospital and was delirious following the accident. His injuries are not considered serious.

The street car which figured in the accident was Eagle Rock car No. 635 in charge of Conductor R. G. Tucker and Motorman Fmislowe. The car crew say the gong was sounded loudly when approaching this crossing as it is considered a very dangerous one on account of the heavy traffic. It is presumed that Mr. Burton thought he could make the crossing ahead of the car. The accident took place at about 11 o'clock. Mrs. Burton was able to tell those who were caring for her to notify Mr. Charles Shattuck of Glendale, formerly associated with Mr. Burton in business and a friend of the family, also her brother, Robert M. Walton.

The remains of the two girls were brought to the Pulliam Undertaking Parlors in Glendale.

The Burton family came to Glendale from Michigan more than three years ago when Mr. Burton became manager of the Glendale-Montrose railway. The daughters entered the Glendale school and Zelma graduated from the Glendale Union high school last June. Emma Lee was in the junior class at the high school. When the Glendale-Montrose road changed hands Mr. Burton built a home at Montrose and has since that time been connected with the Pacific Light and Power Company.

The sad and untimely death of these two sweet young girls casts a gloom over many a home in Glendale that would otherwise be happy this Christmas season. They and their parents were members of the First Presbyterian church of Glendale and their associates in the church as well as their schoolmates deeply deplore the sad affair.

FOR CIVIC WELFARE

MRS. RICHARDSON AND MRS. GREENWALT ENTERTAIN CITY OFFICIALS

The home of Mrs. Ella Richardson, 805 South Central avenue, was the scene of happy festivities Friday evening when Mrs. Richardson, curator of the civic section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, and Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, secretary of the section, entertained the city officials and their wives and the members of the civic section and their husbands. The spacious rooms were artistically decorated with Christmas bells and mistletoe. A musical program was enjoyed, Mr. Harry Greenwalt played "Sosaura" by Bergmein as a flute solo, Mrs. Puffer playing his accompaniment, Mrs. William Herman West sang a number of Scotch melodies, Mrs. Dora L. Gibson accompanying her. A number of short talks were given and the work of the civic section was explained.

Mayor J. S. Thompson spoke of the need of a civic center in Glendale and also urged the co-operation of the people and the city trustees. City Marshal George Herald commended the efforts of the civic section and explained the benefits that would be derived from a civic center in Glendale, a place where the boys and girls could have healthful recreation.

Mrs. Bartlett, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, expressed her interest in the movement, and Mrs. Collin Cable and Mrs. George Herald spoke along the same line.

The float that is to represent Glendale in Pasadena on New Years day in the Tournament of Roses was discussed and red geraniums were solicited for the float.

Mr. Vincent gave a demonstration of the new Diamond disc graphophone and Mr. Vincent and Miss Jackson also gave a number.

Refreshments were served by Misses Eulalia Richardson and Barbara and Lorraine Mitchell and John and Paul Richardson. The departing guests expressed their pleasure in such a happy and profitable evening.

DEATH OF THOMAS WOOD

The Holtville, California, Tribune of December 20 records the death of Thomas Wood of Glendale. The Tribune says:

"Yesterday we recorded the sudden illness of Thomas Wood and last night his physician and family were considering his removal from Holtville hospital to the coast and to his home in Glendale. However, it was found that his condition was so serious that it was impossible to remove him and at 10:30 last night he passed away. The dead man was widely known and highly respected and while sixty-eight years of age was strong, active and apparently in good health when seized with cramps at the store of the Imperial Valley Hardware Company on Monday. He was later removed to the drug store and from there to Dr. Wimp's office, where he was afforded temporary relief and finally taken to the hospital.

"The remains were taken to the Shafer Undertaking rooms at El Centro and will be sent to his home in Glendale tonight. He is survived by his wife, who did not reach here in time to see him alive, two sons, Harry, well known here, Thomas, of Glendale, and one daughter, Mrs. Eugene Wilson, of Glendale, and six grandchildren.

"The deceased was well and favorably known here and had a wide circle of friends in the valley. Although for some time past he has made his home in Glendale he was here a great deal, having his ranch interests to look after. The cause of his death was a rupture of a duo-denal abscess and the resultant peritonitis."

The news of Mr. Woods' sudden death brought sadness to the many friends of the family in Glendale. Funeral services are being held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the chapel of the Scovern-Letten-Frey Undertaking Company. Interment in the mausoleum at Inglewood Park.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The Sunday school of the First Congregational church will hold Christmas exercises tonight beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Each class furnishes some part of the program and also makes some contribution for the unfortunate.

A number of families and individuals will have a more joyful Christmas as a result of tonight's giving.

Each person attending the exercises is asked to bring an apple or an orange or a potato.

The church has been very prettily decorated for the occasion.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Dec. 23.—It has been learned that all American residents of Torreon fled to Aguas Calientes before Villa attacked Torreon. The Villista forces waited until the garrison had been evacuated before they took the city. Villa now holds all lines of communication north of Torreon. CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

One of the most enjoyable and pleasing Christmas entertainments ever given in the Presbyterian church was that of last evening. The auditorium was filled with the members and their friends to see the beautiful decorations, hear the splendid program and bring their gifts.

The admission was either a large potato or a large apple. They were certainly large in size and quantity. The decorations were planned and carried out by Mr. T. W. Preston and his most efficient committee. The entire church was profusely decorated with greens and scarlet blossoms as well as quantities of holly. In the middle of the platform was a large cross rising out of a manger, surmounted by a beautiful glowing star, upon the cross in large letters was the word "Peace." Large vases of poinsettia added to the glow and brightness of the Christmas colors, red and green. To the right of the platform was a Christmas tree reaching to the ceiling all aglow with lights and glittering ornaments. A chimney and fireplace, with its red glow, was made of boxes of candy for all who were present, these were distributed by the members of Mrs. Ogg's class. The whole was most pleasing and beautiful.

Mr. Widney, the superintendent, was in charge, that meant all would go well. The orchestra furnished beautiful music throughout the evening. Mrs. Ogg lead the Sunday school choruses, and proved herself a good leader with her clear sweet soprano. There were readings and choruses from the primary department, a Christmas reading by Mrs. Robert Jones, and Christmas experiences by five little girls from the junior department and a chorus by a class of girls from the intermediate. A vocal solo by Miss Julia Roberinson was beautifully given, and Cora Louise Butterfield's reading called forth loud applause, and other pleasing numbers. Mr. Edmonds' word gave the keynote of the whole entertainment, magnifying the name and birthday of Jesus Christ, the spirit of giving rather than receiving; all was glory to God in the highest. Classes of boys brought in the gifts and placed them in the manger from whence they were taken to those who were sick and shut in and unable to enjoy the program.

The candy was then distributed as a finish to the Christmas entertainment of 1916.

Mr. E. D. Cowan, the chairman of the "Special Days" committee, closed with prayer.

The Sunday school stood back of and entered into the spirit of the entertainment to a unit, so of course it was just what it was planned to be, a splendid success.

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES

The Sunday school Christmas exercises of the First Methodist church were given in the church last night. The various numbers on the program were well rendered and thoroughly appreciated by the large audience.

One of the striking features of the program was the "Cradle Scene" presented by the beginners' department under the direction of Mrs. H. D. Goss. The readings, choruses, duets and solos were all well rendered. The readings by the Misses Leone Brice and Melba Weiler, the chorus by the Queen Esther young ladies and the solo by Miss Helen Reynolds were especially deserving of mention.

At the close of the program boxes of candy and nuts were distributed to all present. After this Mr. Arthur G. Lindley, president of the Brotherhood, came forward and, in a few cordial and well chosen words, took the Rev. and Mrs. Snudden by surprise and presented them with a large and beautiful center piece—the gift of classes in the Bible school. Mrs. Snudden and the pastor expressed their appreciation for the kindness of the school in making the gift.

The church was artistically decorated for the occasion. The center of the platform was occupied by a large illuminated Christmas tree.

One of the established customs of this school is to bring gifts of clothing, fruit, groceries, etc., to be given when needed. A large amount was brought last night and was distributed this morning.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Lauler of 1315 Arden street left Glendale this noon for Elsinore, where they will spend the holidays with Mr. Lawler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lawler, who will have a family reunion and a tree. Dr. Lawler expects also to enjoy the fine duck hunting on Lake Elsinore.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB TO GIVE ANNUAL PARTY FOR CHILDREN

Tuesday afternoon, December 26, at 2:30 p. m., at Masonic Temple, the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will entertain His Majesty and Her Royal Highness up to the age of twelve years at a Christmas party. Once a year at the Christmas season it is the custom of the club to devote one afternoon's program to the most precious product California produces—her children. This year the following ladies are the committee hostesses: Mrs. Mabel Ocker, Mrs. Walter Stamps, Mrs. C. E. Norton, Mrs. F. H. Cassell, Mrs. C. E. Hutton, Mrs. H. H. Faries, and Mrs. H. Braun. Every member of the club is expected to bring her little brood, and every other member, not so blessed, is urged to adopt two little ones under the age of twelve for this special occasion.

The party will have many enjoyable features. Our own Mrs. Danford, who entertains children so delightfully with stories, has promised to be there. Several ladies adept at games will have charge of that part of the afternoon. The committee is very fortunate in securing a child dancer, Miss Edith Lindsay of Hollywood, who will appear in two costume dances. This talented little miss is the pupil of Mademoiselle Le Gai, Miss Ruth St. Denis, Mr. Ted Shawn, and Mr. Ernest Belcher. Miss Lindsay has a class in Glendale once a week in technique, plastique, interpretive, character and social dances. The program will include music by little children and Christmas songs. Refreshments will be served. A trimmed Christmas tree will adorn the hall. Gifts will not be distributed to the little guests but they instead are requested to bring some simple little gift, a top, a book or a bit of candy to be distributed to children whose Christmas has not been so happy. It is the wish of the committee, however, that no child shall stay away through inability to bring this little gift for another. Every child in Glendale and vicinity is cordially invited.

NEW CHRISTIAN MINISTER

Members of the Glendale First Christian church are rejoicing over the near arrival of their new minister, who is expected to arrive in Glendale at about 8:30 a. m. tomorrow. Elder Cole comes from St. Louis, Mo., where he has been pastor of the Compton Heights church for the past four years. He is a man of energy and great ability and the congregation here are looking forward to a grand year's work. The beautiful Christmas cantata to be given in the Christian church Sunday evening under the direction of Mrs. John Cole will be well worth hearing and a large attendance is expected.

PRIMARY CHILDREN CELEBRATE CHRISTMAS

The primary department of the Congregational church held very interesting Christmas exercises yesterday afternoon. Many of the children's parents were present to enjoy the program.

At the close of the exercises refreshments were served. The program was in charge of Mrs. E. D. Yard, the efficient superintendent of the department, ably assisted by Miss Erma Patterson, Mrs. H. Bullinger, Mrs. A. S. Chase and Mrs. H. W. Yarick.

Mrs. W. H. Yarick, superintendent of the cradle roll, presented eleven certificates of graduation to those who graduate from the cradle roll into the primary department.

The following program was presented:

CHURCH WEDDING

THOMAS FURST AND MABETH PIGG MARRIED LAST NIGHT

A large crowd was present at the Central Christian church last evening when Miss Mabeth Fredrika Pigg was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Martin Furst. The church was a bower of beauty. The altar was banked in ferns and poinsettias, while fern balls were gracefully suspended by long strands of smilax. At the edge of the altar a large screen of palms, holly, mistletoe and smilax concealed the musicians, while extending in a half circle from the screen wreaths of smilax met in a huge white wedding bell of carnations under which the ceremony was performed.

Preceding the ceremony a beautiful musical program in charge of Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones was given. Miss Margaret Dick of Los Angeles gave two vocal numbers, "When I First Met You" and "Dear Hand, Close Held in Mine." Mr. Julius Kranz gave Greig's "To Spring," which was exquisite in beauty and was followed by "True Till Death" by Miss Dick.

Then came the wonderful Lohengrin bridal march by Mrs. Jones and Mr. Kranz and the bridal party came slowly up the aisle. The groom and his best man, Mr. Clifford Furst, his brother, advanced from a side entrance to the altar preceded by Master Billy Pigg carrying the ring in a huge white lily, while the bride and her attendants slowly advanced down the aisle. First came the maid of honor, Miss Winifred Jones, gowned in pale green taffeta with touches of American Beauty and carrying American Beauty roses. Following Miss Jones were the bridesmaids, Misses Gladys Anderson and Atala Browning, who wore lovely gowns of gold and violet taffeta with overdresses of gold net, carrying muffs of gold and shower bouquets of Cecil Bruner roses. Little Anna Ewell Phillips, a cousin of the bride, came next as flower girl. She was dressed in fluffy white net over yellow taffeta and carried a golden basket filled with flowers which she scattered before the bride. The bride entered upon the arm of her father. She was wonderfully lovely in a gown of silver lace over white satin, embroidered in seed pearls. Her veil made a halo for her face and was held in place by a silver band and caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a large shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley.

After a beautiful and impressive ring ceremony performed by Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the First Presbyterian church, the bridal party passed out to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The ushers were Messrs. Wilmot McIntyre, Robert Lyans, Lucius Phillips and William Elmer Evans.

The bride and groom kept their destination following the ceremony a secret. After January 1 they will be at home to their friends in a beautiful new bungalow at 200 North Isabel, the gift of the bride's parents.

Both bride and groom are popular in social circles in Glendale. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pigg. She was complimented by many social affairs following the announcement of her engagement. Mr. Furst is a son of Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Furst of Los Angeles. He is associated with his brother in business in Glendale.

CHRISTMAS JOY AND PEACE

There is on the threshold of time another Christmas—a day of precious memories and chiming of Christmas bells—a time when old and young unite in extending cheer to the discouraged and forlorn. Christmas joy can not drive from the world all sorrow and oppression, but it can serve as an ointment to alleviate suffering and comfort the sorrowing.

May the day's distinctiveness be held in high regard and may joy reign supreme in the hearts of a grateful people.

Christ, the world's ideal, so dimly understood, so faintly followed, so marred by prejudice, so defaced by passion, entered the earth amid the singing of the angels' message of peace. In thirty short years the world leapt upon him and destroyed him; yet his last message to his followers was "Peace I leave with you my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you." Fifty years more and the golden temple of Jerusalem went down in ruins amid the flames and the shrieks of the perishing Jews.

Age after age has rolled on and every Christmas the message of peace is repeated and every age sees Christians more and more realizing the truth of Christ's words, "In the world ye shall have tribulation but in me peace; be of good cheer for I have overcome the world." Far off is the era of peace; yet it is nearer at hand even now than it ever was. European countries with an experience of almost three years engaged in cruel war, are now realizing the sweetness of peace and ere a second Christmas comes it is hoped these wars will have ceased and peace will reign supreme in the world.

'Xmas Joys

What is so beautiful as the devotion of a true husband and father to his family? And the comfort which comes to such a man from having them fully protected by good Life Insurance is one of his chiefest joys.

It is also the kind which lasts all through the year.

Many men, however, are very insufficiently protected. Are you?

Let me talk to you about it.
